

AVAILABLE OCTOBER - NOLATHANE EDITION 10 CATALOGUE

Yes the wait is over, with the highly anticipated release of the Nolathane Edition 10 polyurethane bushing, suspension and wheel alignment component catalogue in October 2009

The latest edition capitalises on the well regarded Edition 9, with a few noted extras. Jason Oltmanns, product manager and developer of the catalogue mentions "We did such a good job with Edition 9, I thought it would be tough to improve on it. I can't deny, we have taken longer than expected with this one, but the result is fantastic and I know our customers will appreciate the detail and effort that has gone into it".

Considered Nolathane's strongest marketing tool, Edition 10 boasts a number of new features, based on extensive research into its use at wholesale, reseller and trade levels, with a bonus section for beneficial use at the retail counter.
